

I am in favor of dropping more code for lower license requirement. I believe there are more reliable digital modes available now. I believe CW will continue to be popular for DXing.